My (Re)Generation Action Story:

I just wanted to make a video showing how by just separating out trash appropriately we could have a chance at decreasing global warming and pollution which leads to many health issues. I want to inform others how they could make a difference, even as simple as just separating their trash. My goal is to teach people the basics so our world could slowly get greener! Yes it may have not been 4Rs but the purpose was too be serious about this issue I didn't want to make a silly vibe about this important issue. The purpose of my video is too treat people with respect and take them seriously so they are more likely to recycle and separate their trash to decrease pollution.
