

Help Bring Reusables for Take-Out to Businesses in Alameda County!

DeliverZero, the nation's largest returnable, reusable packaging system, is offering their services to restaurants in Alameda County, and you can help onboard new businesses.

Become a DeliverZero Ambassador!

- Get paid to help local restaurants eliminate single-use packaging
- Be a reuse leader in your community
- Get all you need to reach out to businesses, including a toolkit and online coaching sessions

Why Sign up Now?

- Get $150 for each business you enroll.
- Incentives for businesses from StopWaste.
You can offer $1,000 in free DeliverZero services to the first 25 businesses that join.
- We have momentum!
With growing consumer awareness, emerging local policies and reusable foodware systems ready, now is the time for change!

Learn more and sign up

www.deliverzero.com/ambassador-program

About DeliverZero

Founded in 2019, DeliverZero offers restaurants a turnkey reusable foodware system, integrating with ordering platforms like DoorDash, UberEats and others. They handle all logistics, including the stocking, tracking, return collection, washing and redistribution of reusable containers. Businesses save over 40% on packaging costs, while gaining new customers and larger orders. DeliverZero operates successfully throughout the country, including LA, New York City, Denver and now Alameda County! Learn more at www.deliverzero.com.