My 4Rs: Reduce, Reuse, Repurpose, and Recycle

My (Re)Generation Action Story:

Hey there, I'm Kiad, just your average ninth-grader, but I've got something super important to share through my artwork: "Wrap it right, save food, save the earth." To make a change by taking simple steps. Here's how I do my part every day: How 4Rs is implemented to my thinking - I always try to use both sides of paper and make sure to turn off lights when I'm not using them. - I'm constantly finding new ways to repurpose old stuff, like using notebooks and plastic containers for different things. - Recycling is a big deal for me, so I make sure to recycle paper, plastic, and cans. Plus, I'm always thinking about how I can use things more efficiently. The simplest thing leads to more efficient things If we all work together, step by step, we can make a real difference and protect our environment. Let's align our goals and practices with the values of our community.
