My 4Rs: Reuse, Reduce, Recycle, Regrow

My (Re)Generation Action Story

In my art, you will be able to see trash in the murky brown water. You can see pieces of paper floating around. My art shows you could have reused them.

My second R is reduce, in the picture if we can reduce how much smoke we let out. I have recycle because in the polluted water we have things that could have been recycled. If all the trash was gone we could have a flourished land. I chose regrow because if we regrow we can have flower paradise. I have butterflies to represent a caterpillar turning to a beautiful butterfly like humanity to a beautiful land.

STOPWASTE

When we pollute the world we hurt nature. If we pollute the world we need to regrow our animals' homes. To save the world is to regrow our home.

In my picture, the Earth is polluted on the bottom, on the top we have worked to regrow nature. Our Earth can be a nature filled city but if we are going to create a city we need to influence people to keep gardens, meadows, and forests. This is why we need to regrow our Earth, not obliterate it.
