My 4Rs: Recycle, Reuse, Reduce, Rethink

My (Re)Generation Action Story:

My 4 r's are recycle, reuse, reduce and rethink. The recycling part is about not just putting paper for example in the trash. You should put paper in the recycling. For my reuse part, you should use a reusable water bottle for example instead of using a plastic water bottle and put it in the trash. For my reduce part you have to reduce trash that goes to the landfill because approximately 5,000,000 pieces of trash goes in the landfill everyday!! For the rethink part we have to rethink about our earth and make it a better place because us humans have to decide about how much trash goes into our landfill and we have to make a change.

My picture shows a bad guy throwing trash in the garbage and a good guy picking it out. I drew the good guy picking up paper from the ground recycling the piece of paper. The good guy was going to reuse the piece of paper. The good guy also reduced the trash that is the trash that goes in our landfills and is saving the environment. The good guy rethink about the world and what it can be in the future.
