My 4Rs: Reflect, Repurpose, Research, Rejoice

My (Re)Generation Action Story:

Reflect, Repurpose, Research, Rejoice At Mohr School, one of this year's Earth Day activities was to plant a butterfly garden. Instead of giving all the students a plastic pot to plant their garden in, our PTA's Go Green Team encouraged everyone to REflect and find a container in their home that they could REpurpose into a pot for planting, which would help conserve resources and result in less waste. Coming up with this project required us to REsearch the lack of drainage and thinking of a creative solution (add gravel at the bottom). When the first plant appeared we REjoiced.

Being a 4-Rs Action Hero may require you to go the extra mile. Our planet earth is worth it.
